Disclaimer

- In this presentation I may pass along suggestions, tips, or information about experiences or approaches to the management of diabetes. However, please note that individual symptoms, situations, circumstances and results may vary. Please consult your physician or qualified health care provider regarding your condition and appropriate medical treatment. The information provided is not intended to be used for medical diagnosis or treatment or as a substitute for professional medical advice.
- I am compensated by Tandem Diabetes Care for my participation in this event. However, I have created the content for this presentation and it is based on my personal experiences and observations.
- NOTE: Tandem Insulin Pumps are intended for the subcutaneous delivery of insulin, at set and variable rates, for the management of diabetes mellitus in persons requiring insulin. The t:slim® and t:slim X2™ Insulin Pumps are currently approved for individuals 6 years of age and greater, and the t:flex® and t:slim G4™ Insulin Pumps are currently approved for individuals 12 years of age and greater. RX ONLY.

Disclosure

- As of January 1, 2016, Tandem has entered into a consulting agreement with Kerri which includes compensation for consulting services, including speaking on Tandem's behalf at diabetes-related events. THIS IS ONE OF THOSE EVENTS. When speaking on Tandem's behalf at such events, Kerri's relationship with Tandem will be disclosed to the audience. (JUST DID IT.) With a physician's prescription, Tandem provided Kerri with products at no charge, including a loaner Tandem insulin pump and the cartridges and infusion sets needed to use the pump.
- Since April 15, 2010, Kerri has parented a daughter who she thinks is the best daughter ever. On August 23, 2016, a son was added to the family who is the best son ever. No offense to your kids. Just operating on full disclosure here.
